Chairman's Message

Dear Friend of SCI,

SCI is in motion. Did you read that the Institute provided hundreds of immediate grants to mariners devastated by Hurricanes Katrina or Rita through SCI's Mariners' Assistance Fund? Did you realize that our instructors in Paducah and Houston trained 1,438 mariners? Did you know that our chaplains and volunteers delivered an unprecedented 16,169 Christmas gifts to mariners?

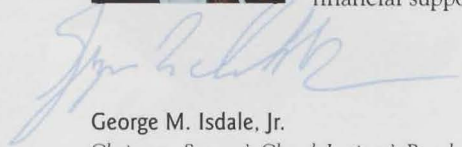

While we boast about our longevity – 172 years old – we are retooling, restructuring and planning for a healthy future. Last year we undertook the hard and rewarding work of mission prioritization and establishment of a sound endowment policy. Both of these tasks are critical to the long-term viability and success of the Institute. We believe SCI's programs of service, education, and advocacy will well meet the current and future needs of mariners working on the deep seas and on America's inland waterways.

Please read about our exciting journey in this 2005 Annual Report. See what we have accomplished with your help.

Thank you for your interest in our mission and your continued financial support.

George M. Isdale, Jr.

Chairman, Seamen's Church Institute's Board of Trustees

Executive Director increases leadership role

The Rev. Jean R. Smith, DD

Executive Director

In October 2005, Dr. Smith was appointed to the Board of The National Waterways Foundation, which is chaired by Joseph H. Pyne, President of Kirby Corporation. Dr. Smith also serves on the Board of the Life Saving Benevolent Association, North American Maritime Ministry Association, International Christian Maritime Association, Seafarers' and International House, and is a founding member of Seaport Speaks.

THE SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE OF NEW YORK & NEW JERSEY

Founded in 1834 and affiliated with the Episcopal Church, the Seamen's Church Institute of New York & New Jersey (SCI) is the largest, most comprehensive mariners' agency in North America. Annually, its chaplains visit 3,400 vessels in the Port of New York and New Jersey and along 2,200 miles of America's inland waterways. SCI's maritime education facilities provide navigational training to nearly 1,600 mariners each year through simulator-based facilities located in Houston, TX and Paducah, KY. The Institute and its maritime attorneys are recognized as leading advocates for merchant mariners by the United States Government, including the Congress, the US Coast Guard, the Department of Homeland Security, as well as the United Nations, the International Maritime Organization, the International Labor Organization and maritime trade associations.

Our nation's river mariners endure long periods away from home and family. Ministry on the River is the only program of pastoral care available to more than 30,000 inland mariners. SCI chaplains visit mariners onboard vessels from Pittsburgh to Houston. Congregations who support us become part of our River Friendly Church network.

Those who work at sea are far from community. They lack regular access to family, friends, police, lawyers, counselors, and even doctors.

Trained chaplains and ship visitors greet and offer hospitality to seafarers entering the Port of New York & New Jersey, visiting nearly 3,000 vessels each year. The staff and volunteers at SCI's International Seafarers' Center in Port Newark welcome over 57,000 seafarers, port workers, and truckers annually in a safe, friendly environment for relaxation, recreation, and spiritual refreshment.

Chaplains and staff provide social services and pastoral care to over 7,000 cruise ship workers at the New York Passenger Ship Terminal in Manhattan, the Brooklyn Cruise Ship Terminal, and at Cape Liberty in Bayonne, NJ.

Capital Campaign funds for International Seafarers' Center renovation

Throughout 2005, the Capital Campaign received $1.9 million in funding and pledges for renovations to SCI's International Seafarers' Center in the heart of Port Newark, NJ.

We are grateful to the Estates of Dr. John J. McMullen for his pledge of $500,000 and Sir Edwin A.G. Manton's gift of $225,000. The Institute joins their respective families in mourning the loss of these philanthropists in 2005.

When completed, the renovated Center will offer updated and enhanced services to seafarers entering the port including an Internet lounge, zoned access accommodating increased operating hours, a dedicated volunteer area, and refurbished conference rooms. The last renovation to the Center was in 1989, 29 years after its opening in 1960.

A work crew replaced all of the windows and placed new heating and air conditioning units on the roof as renovations continue at the International Seafarers' Center.

Mariners receive record number of Christmas gifts

In 2005, mariners received 16,169 handmade Christmas gifts. Over 3,500 knitters from every state, as well as members of River Friendly Churches, participated in making the gifts. The Institute distributes the Christmas gifts to seafarers coming into the Port of New York & New Jersey and to river mariners along 2,200 miles of America's inland waterways from Pittsburgh to New Orleans to Houston.

The tradition of gifts for mariners goes back to 1898 during the Spanish American War, when the Christmas-at-Sea program began. Today, the knitted items include hats, scarves, vests, and socks. They are collected year-round at the Institute's headquarters in Lower Manhattan where volunteers meet daily.

The following letters to SCI are representative of the thanks from those who received the gifts.

TO SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE FROM A DEEP-SEA MARINER:

"At our last call at New York, you delivered to us 26 plastic bags with gifts for my men and me. I'd like to thank you and all diligent knitters for these unexpected presents and for their prayers for our safety as well as for your good wishes for the year to come. On December 24th, we celebrated our Christmas Eve with all our crew. At that time we were inside the Malacca strait, one of the places in the world most haunted by pirates. But we sailed under a good star and passed safely. We are all wishing you and all the persons who were caring and praying for us as well as your families some peaceful Christmas days and a happy year 2006 with best health and God's blessing."

Capt. W. Koehler and the crew of CMV "Antwerpen Express"

TO SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE FROM AN AMERICAN RIVER MARINER:

"I had to work all of the Christmas holidays and New Years too. It is always very hard being away from my loved ones during the Christmas holidays. One thing that always helps is the kindness that is shown thru Seamen's Church and all of the children who send their fresh baked cookies and candy with their beautiful Christmas cards. I read every card that comes to our boat. Just looking at them and reading the words on them, I can feel the love in their message to us. There are times when we are many miles from a town and can't get a cell phone signal, cut off from the world. But when I get off watch and go to my room, there are some of the children's Christmas cards in full view to brighten my day."

Sincerely Yours,

Capt. Ralph S. Williams III, Relief Captain, M/V Martha May

Seamen's Church Institute Educates Mariners

Eric K. Larsson, Executive Officer, Western Rivers
Captain Greg Menke, Director, Paducah Center
Captain William Douglas, MNI, Director, Houston Center

SCI's maritime education facilities provide navigational training to nearly 1,600 mariners each year through simulator-based facilities located in Paducah, KY and Houston, TX. The Institute's instructors provide practical and relevant training specifically for inland, coastal, and deep-sea mariners. The training utilizes a computer-based simulation system through which instructors can re-create real-life scenarios. Instructors use this tool to improve a mariner's navigational and bridge-management skills in a risk-free environment. Consistent and regular training creates a safer workplace and a greater awareness of America's wondrous waterway system.

SCI training prepares mariners for all crises

Captain Les Grimm, Senior Manager of Vessel Operations at Ingram Barge Company, left his office in Paducah, KY for New Orleans the day after Hurricane Katrina hit. Ingram had approximately 105 barges either beached or damaged in a port practically destroyed by a hurricane.

Charged with assessing damage and repairs, Captain Grimm knew he faced an enormous challenge.

"How should I organize this effort? Using the Incident Command System [ICS] training that I received at Seamen's Church, I quickly developed incident objectives and priorities, established an effective ICS structure, and started tasking company personnel for recovery," said Captain Grimm.

Since January 2005, SCI's Paducah Center has offered ICS training, and over 200 mariners and shore-side personnel have taken the course. This collaborative effort between the US Coast Guard and SCI provided a venue for professional mariners to acquire the tools they needed in a crisis situation.

The incident does not have to be a hurricane or a major disaster for this system to work. It could be, for example, a pollution case, a barge taking on water, or a vessel grounding. SCI teaches mariners strategies and skills to successfully address any incident or crisis.

Captain Grimm gave this testimonial to SCI's ICS training: "Approximately 36 barges were salvaged and we did not pull one fitting. We were able to accomplish our work quickly and efficiently," he said.

The Incident Command System training is offered at SCI's Paducah and Houston Centers.

The Seamen's Church Institute's legal staff is unique to the maritime industry, providing legal research and policy, education, and advocacy for mariners. SCI's attorneys are frequently called upon to intervene directly in crisis situations.

SCI attorneys:

advocate for seafarers' rights with the US and foreign governments, United Nations, the International Maritime Organization, and the International Labor Organization provide legal advice and assistance to seafarers and port chaplains worldwide work with the US Coast Guard and other agencies to develop and implement maritime security policies following the attacks of 9/11

issue memoranda and articles on mariners' rights

review legislation and international instruments for the US and foreign governments and maritime agencies convene high-level roundtables and forums to help develop sound policies to protect merchant mariners research seafarers' rights issues and publish seafarers' rights handbooks

Hurricanes Katrina and Rita relief

SCI delivered immediate grants

The Seamen's Church Institute of New York & New Jersey (SCI) was privileged to assist 316 inland and deep-sea mariners affected by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita as they began rebuilding their lives.

SCI HURRICANE RELIEF

DONATIONS TOTALED $155,377.92

$56,600 from corporations

$56,000 from foundations

$35,657.92 from individuals

$3,600 from organizations

$3,520 from parishes

We especially thank the following donors who each contributed more than $4,000:

Henry A. Petter Supply Co.; Marquette Transportation Company, Inc.; The Teekay Foundation; and Western Kentucky Navigation Co.

The Institute worked with the human resource departments of maritime companies to make grants and interest-free loans through SCI's Mariners' Assistance Fund through December 31, 2005. SCI provided grants to meet immediate needs such as hotel/motel expenses, clothing, furniture, medical costs, gas, food, home repair, and utilities.

SCI's chaplains continue to offer personal and pastoral support in New Orleans, Memphis, throughout the devastated region, and to Gulf mariners arriving in the Port of New York & New Jersey.

As one mariner wrote to the Institute, "Thank you for the check... I was not expecting the procedure to go so fast; it was amazing that there was no running around. You just don't know how it helped us out. We are very thankful for the kindness and fast response. Thank everyone for us. God bless you all."

All donations received by SCI for Hurricanes Katrina-Rita relief were distributed.

Only days after Katrina struck the Gulf Coast, SCI's Executive Director, the Rev. Jean Smith, visited mariners in the region. Here on Sept. 12, onboard the M/V Christopher Parsonage (AEP River Transportation), northbound from the Gulf above Greenville, MS, she spoke with deckhands, Mike and John, who witnessed the Hurricane's devastation.

We deeply appreciate all donors listed on the following pages. Without their support, SCI could not deliver comprehensive services to deep-sea, coastal, and America's river mariners. While we are blessed to have an endowment, those funds ensure that future generations of mariners will receive the same high level of service from the Institute. To be today's premier maritime mariners' service agency in North America, we need the support of every donor listed. We thank each and every one of you for your contribution.
