MANCHURIAN PRINCE

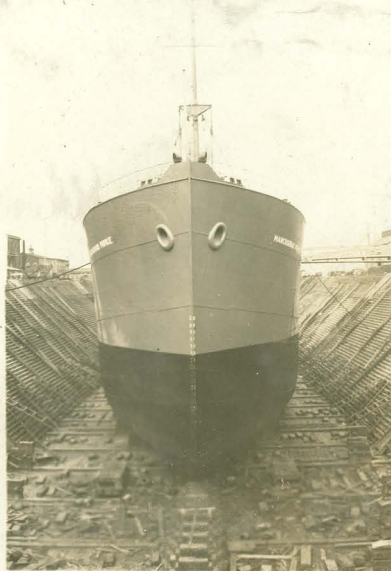

Manchurian Prince Is
At Shipyard Here for Repairs After Accident
5/27/24

The British steamer Manchurian Prince, damaged when she collided with the Mallory tanker Hoxbar off Hatteras yesterday morning, arrived here this morning and went to the shipyard for repairs. The Manchurian Prince has a hole in her starboard bow. The Hoxbar, apparently but little damaged, is proceeding on to New York.

The coast guard cutter Manning was sent to the aid of the Manchurian Prince, but the steamer reported that she was able to make port without assistance.

Furness Withy and Company, Ltd., are local agents for the Manchurian Prince.
