

services and ^{Rev} Mr. Nolden preached to congregation from 150 to 180. which was very attentive.

After leaving the wharf #3 came in the room, where they were addressed by Mr. Fisher in a very feeling & solemn manner as well as by a short but persuasive appeal by our Mr. Missionary

On being appealed to, 4 of the assembly made an open confession, that they felt themselves sinners & intend to lead a new life by coming to Jesus. They received each of them the life of John Newton.

Two hymns were song, whilst we were in the room.

Sunday afternoon, 2 Dec. 1860.

The same high wind continued in the afternoon, which made it very trying for men to keep their place on the wharves & particularly so to our Missionary who preached with much endurance to a congregation of abt. 60 to 100 men. The tide being very low, we had to remain on the wharf in a very exposed situation.

After congregating in the room & singing some hymns in commemoration of the Advent of our blessed Saviour, Mr.
Tracy ~~was~~ addressed the men upon that subject, which was listen'd to with much attention.

There have been for some Sunday's a few boys congregating together who lived in the neighborhood & been sent by their parents here to get them out of mischief, perhaps they were first attracted by the books, we have been distributing to them. They appear to behave with much decorum.

Sunday Morning Janry. 6th 1861.

Weather fine.
Our accommodations for holding service were rather poor, there were no barges & ^{the} tide low, so we were therefore obliged to remain on the wharf, which was damp & muddy. Consequently our congregation was ^{only} from 60 to 80 men. 3 Drunkards were among the number, who sometimes intended to say a word, but were kept in check by Mr. Fischer who placed himself aside of them.
Our Missionary preached from Micah 1-5. Therefore said the Lord God considers thy ways reminding all his hearers, of the duty of self-examination.

Particularly at the commencement of a new Year, that this world was principally preparatory for one infinite more glorious to come.

After service, a hymn was sung & papers distributed. Cards & Tracts distributed before service by the sexton & myself.

Sunday morning Aug 11 1861
Services & sermon by our Missionary on a Barge just below our room.
We all went to the dock feeling that we were to have a small attendance, but the reverse was the case. We not only had a very good attendance of boatmen & sailor, but they all listened as tho' it were for their life, to a most inspiring sermon from the words, "more lifted up the serpent in the wilderness Even so must the son of man be lifted up." It was a season long to be remembered I trust to all who listened. - Attendance ^{satisfied} about 80 or 90.

Leads & Tracts were distributed on the vessels in the neighbourhood & on the Dock. The day was hot & sultry -

Sunday Morning Sept. 1st. 1861.

A beautiful & bright day. Our accommodations for holding services were rather poor. The only barge accessibly was in the middle of Coontis slip & we had to climb over another to get one with a cover to it.

Our Missionary preached an excellent Sermon from the Text Have you received the Holy Ghost which was listened to with great attention by about 60-70 Boatmen & Seamen. Our Singing was well supported & the tunes well chosen & generally known.

Present, Mr. Fisher, & Mr. Lex Cards & Tracts distributed by the Sexton & myself before service & religious papers at the close

Sunday afternoon 1 Sept. 1861
This afternoon we occupied the same barge, & on acct of its location we were deprived of the opportunity to swell our gatherings from Passus by, our number therefore were limited about 80 to 100.

Our Missionary drew much attention & the singing was very general.

Present Mr. Ely, Engineer
Rev. W. Prior from Pennsylvania

After service we retired to our room, where we collected to the number of 63.

Rev. W. Prior addressed the men in a very affectionate manner, saying that he had also a son, following the sea, and took for his subject the parable of the Prodigal Son, which seemed to make a serious impression to all.

After singing ~~Books~~
Tracts & Testaments were distributed as usual.
